Hi all,

usually PandaRoot meetings start at 14:00
(on Wednesdays, and the next meeting will be next week, April 23).

However, we have a difficulty in the next few months in a sense that one of the core developers (Stefano) must attend every day from 13:00 to 16:00 an intensive German language course (he will have to handle ~40 oral exams in German in August).

So, the question is:

would it be possible to change the meeting time to 10:00?

In the beginning (about 1 1/2 years ago) this was our starting time, but we changed it due to constraints for Pavia friends. But maybe now it might be possible to change back?

Please think about it for a moment.

A poll is added.

cheers, Soeren
