Hi there,

I included EvtGen into the PandaRoot framework.
Means: compiling inside framework and getting rid of precompiled cernlib.
But: It needs a bit of testing on different machine configuarions.

If you are anyhow using trunk, please consider to try it out (its commented out in the main Cmakelist-file atm).

See attached file for more details.

best regards,

Björn

PS: this should solve half the threads in this forum
