Hi Stefano,

I am currently finalizing the geometry for the TPC which has to be in the MC production. Please give me the weekend for some tests, then I will look over the macros next week.

We also have to talk about the parameter file handling again, I think, as well as the final method on how to do the mixing in the TPC case. If I understood correctly, you claim that it would be feasible to run fully mixed events for the TPC for all channels on the grid, even considering execution times of roughly 30 min/event?

Cheers

Felix
