I just tested two other macro chains from the untouched SVN release. The one in the macro/sttmvdtracking/ folder is also breaking after the first event, the one in macro/emc/ is running through. This seems reasonable, since the segmentation violation output claims an error in the PndSttMvdTracking.cxx and the EMC probably doesn't use this.