Hi.

You still use the Rho package and the event reader. If you want to continue with these, please go to a version where these are still operational, i.e. do a svn update -r 19500 (around the april13 release).

If you need the changes you will have to modify some things in your macro.

Cheers

Ralf

PS: You should move the two functions outside from the main macro function (processbaseparticles and makeptheta).
