Subject: IssueTracker now on githost

Dear PandaRoot developers, experts and users.

The issue tracking for our software has been moved to pandaatfair.githost.io

Bug reports, feature requests etc. should be posted there. The website allows for easy feature branch creation directly by the ticket system. You may have received a handful of mails connected with open and closed issued that were assigned to you.

For convenience I made the redmine project read-only.

Cheers!
  Ralf
