Hi,
It is not clear to my mind what exactly does your task. Could you please be more explicit?

I suppose you create something inside some event, if you do not have event you cannot launch analysis tasks.
Maybe it could be better to create what you creates inside the first event, thus inside the Exec function. From this event you can run whatever task/macro you want.
If you do what you want in the Init I fear that you will miss something, I do not think that you can write in the tree at that stage of the program.

I don't know if I was clear enough, maybe if you describe with more details what you want to do, it could be easier to find the solution.
Bye
