Hi Johan,

yes:
- Soeren will check the output generated by the various macros and make a stastistic estimate and based on that a guess how many data we would produce altogether during the DC
- Dan can compare that with the various storage capacities we have and ring the alarm bell if this should not be sufficient
- I will try to find more SE capacities at GSI for Panda. CPU capacities will be more than enough, I guess.

Cheers,

Kilian