Hello all you wise men and ladies!
I'm brandnew in this field therefore I thought I could trust the online installation guide for fairsoft/pandaroot and did everything according to the instructions on the website (unpacking the files, setting the environment etc.), however when I try to run the demo macros, ROOT can't even find the appropriate libraries - what's wrong?? Maybe it's just some silly rookie mistake but I tried everything that I could think of and now I'm clueless...
Cheers,
Kati
