Subject: Re: all code open to public?
Posted by Anonymous Poster on Tue, 05 Aug 2008 14:03:48 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Hi everybody,

I am personally against unlicensed open code. We are not Microsoft, but we have (or somebody does) have intellectual property on our work. You can still decide later, that you may enable other people to use it freely (or you decide that beforehand by using GPL or so...). But people may not use it to make money or to do other closed source projects in the future.

Christian