Hi,
   since it seems that no particular objection to the last proposed solution arised, I moved the WirepointHitPolicy to genfit, in order to make it usable also by dch detector without unwanted cross dependences.

I tested it with the stt and it works; please, Ola tell me if you find any problem with the dch.

                    Best regards,
                         Lia.
