When trying to register as a new user in the test 2.6.6. installation one gets in the 'Required information' section section an new field:

It is not entirely obvious what to enter. Probably this is a somewhat ill-conveived method to avoid automatized registrations. If this feature can be disabled, please do so.

The screenshot shows a registration form with a 'Name:' label and an input field. Below it is a CAPTCHA section with the text 'Please enter the code shown below:' and a grid of 10x10 small squares. The CAPTCHA code is a sequence of characters: #####...##.#####.##...##. ##...##...##.##.##...##.##. ##...##...##.##.##...##. #####...##.#####.##...##. ##...##.##.##.##...##.##.##. ##...##.##.##.##...##.##.##. #####...#####.#####.#####.. Below the CAPTCHA is a blue bar with the text 'Optional Information'.
