I have found, with the latest svn update, that the tpc code is providing a lot of warnings that were not present in the past:

Warning in <PndTpcPadResponseTask::Exec>: Avalanche outside of allowed region!
r=41.607640

Should one care about them? It is not so clear if they are correlated to some errors on the parameters, or something else, considering that this message was not existing before.

Comments from the experts are welcome.
