Dear PANDA developers,

Here at KVI we have a PC which is running different Linux distributions (32 & 64 bit) simultaneously via XEN. They all do a full build per day and the logs are available on the Dashboard. If you think that you need access to one of these installations, just drop me a line. Please be aware that disk space is very limited and none of them is being backed-up. So NO Guarantees on your data and files at all.

Kind wishes
