Dear all,

With this message, I call for contributions for the computing session on the next CM @ GSI (Monday, 14 March, 14-16:00). Depending on the number of contributions, we will decide whether we cancel the session or not. So, those who would like to present something, please tell me asap (before the end of this week!) and also indicate how much time you need.

Greetings,

Johan.

Dear all,

So far, I only have three contributions. Hence, the computing session on Monday will be canceled, and these contributions will be moved to the next collaboration meeting! Of course, smaller discussions about hot software items will be always possible during that week....

Greetings,

Johan
