

---

Subject: g++ Known Bugs and Issues

Posted by Anar Manafov on Sat, 26 Mar 2005 17:03:34 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I have started documentation dedicated to all know issues of G++. There I am going to collect all "strange" errors/warnings which are not so obvious to fix on fly. Currently everything is collecting for g++ 3.2.3.

I hope you find it useful and convenient for you. I would consider it as a success, if it will help even only ones to someone!

The documentation you can find on my GSI Wiki home page:
<http://wiki.gsi.de/cgi-bin/twiki/view/Main/KnownBugsAndIssues>

[ <http://wiki.gsi.de/cgi-bin/twiki/view/Main/AnarManafov> => C++ Development => G++ 3.2 => Known Bugs and Issues ]

Your feedback will be very much appreciated.

Let me know if the doc helps or/and you want to add issues, which you have experienced with gcc 3.2.3 already, so that it will help others to fix faster their code.

Also, I have updated my collection of Migration issues for gcc 3.2 (find it on my GSI Wiki home page):

<http://wiki.gsi.de/cgi-bin/twiki/view/Main/MigratingToGCC32>

and I recently have started to collect the Migration issues for g++ 3.4:

<http://wiki.gsi.de/cgi-bin/twiki/view/Main/MigratingToGCC34>

Those collections I am updating as soon as I find something new.

---