Dear site admins,

Since many of the emails from MonALISA do not reach you because of various spam filters, the simplest way to keep track of the status of your site services might be using the Firefox toolbar.

You can download it form here:
http://mlr1.gla.ac.uk:7001/plugin/pandaml.xpi
And it will show you all the current service alerts, as well as status of the central services, broadcast messages, provide links etc.

Ideally, site admins should keep an eye on the status and maintain the services on their own sites alive, with help from me only if necessary.

Thanks,
Dan
