Dear all,

The deadline for abstracts for CHEP2013 (14-18 October 2013) is approaching: 1st of April. I encourage those involved in computing and simulation activities for PANDA to submit an abstract! Note that this is one of the largest conferences on computing developments for nuclear, hadron, and particle physics. The main theme of this year's conference is "big data beyond Moore's law", which very well connects to PANDA ambitions. The organisers have also indicated that they strongly encourage the FAIR communities to participate.

For more details, please take a look at the following website:

More-over, the conference will take place at an excellent location: Amsterdam!!!

Greets,

Johan.
