
Subject: Rules for conferences

Posted by Stefano Spataro on Thu, 09 Oct 2014 19:11:20 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Dear all,

let me refresh the policies when you want to go to a conference and you plan to submit an abstract.

The rules can be found at the wiki page here, and let me stress that are valid for general talk as well as for technical talks, showing analysis results or software techniques.

The rules say:

Post the presentation title: via the PANDA publication form (see below) and email panda-spc@gsi.de, as early as possible. Attach abstracts 1 week before submission deadline.

Create PANDA Forum topic. Nudge the committee by email panda-spc@gsi.de, a tutor will be conduct a rehearsal one week prior to the conference. Add the finalized presentation. The actual presented talk or poster should be uploaded after the event using the publication form. It will be made public (released) by the SPC. Proceedings are reviewed by the publication committee.
