Dear all,

we will have our next EVO meeting on Monday 9.10.2017 at 14:00.

The only point on the agenda is the switch to git.

I will give an introduction to the usage of git and show you the workflow we will use in Panda.

We will also do some live tests. Therefore I need the e-mail address of anyone who wants to participate so that I can create an account on our git server.

Cheers,

Tobias

Hi Tobias,

unfortunately I will be travelling on that day. Will there be some written guidelines/rules later for those who cannot attend?

Cheers,
Michael

I will prepare a written guideline on the wiki page.

Cheers,

Tobias

Dear all,

this is a reminder for our Computing EVO meeting this afternoon.
The main (and only topic) will be a tutorial how to use the new git repository of PandaRoot.
To participate you need to have an account on the server. For that you have to contact me and send me the e-mail address you want to use for git.
Without that account you will not be anylonger able to put your development work into the PandaRoot repository once we switch to git!

Cheers,

Tobias
